Says Reports Are Untrue.

There Will be No End to Strike Today.

Thinks Amalgamated Has Fight Yet.

Neither Shaffer Or His Assistants Think of Leaving Pittsburgh.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 7.—(Spl.)—President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, said this morning:

"There will be no strike settlement today. I say this to set the public right on certain published reports."

Asked his opinion on the McKinley tragedy, he said: "I would regret that a strike settlement would result from the attack upon our nation's chief. The Amalgamated association is not defeated. It is not yet in the light strong enough to know it has been fighting."

"The executive board will again meet in Pittsburg this morning. Neither Mr. Shaffer nor any of his national assistants are thinking of going to New York."

MESSAGE OF CONDOLENCE.

"To President and Mrs. McKinley, Buffalo, N. Y.:

"That you may know your Democratic friends in Summit county, O., sympathize with you in these dark hours, the Democracy in convention assembled, authorize me to tender our sincere regrets and hearty wishes for speedy return to health."

"Very truly,

OVERSHADOWED BY SORROW.

How Buckley Post Heard News of the Terrible Calamity.

The meeting of Buckley Post Friday evening was overshadowed by sorrow caused by the terrible news from Buffalo. One hundred and seventy-five members were present, and all were filled with sorrow and indignation over the attempted assassination of their President and comrade. Commander McMillen announced the death officially and made appropriate remarks which were heartily endorsed.

COMMANDER TAGGART

Speaks of the Effect on the Encampment.

"Even though this sorrowful happening should most sadly terminate the Grand Army Encampment will have to go on," said Major E. F. Taggart, commander of the Department of Ohio, G. A. R., Saturday. "Certainly through this unhappy affair, however, the encampment will have less of the pomp and grand display which is usual. If the President lives, the encampment may not be so greatly affected. I know President McKinley personally and as a man, as a citizen, as a soldier and president he has ever been held in highest esteem by the Grand Army."

AKRON DOCTOR

Believes Late Growth in Abdominal Surgery Permits Hope.

"The belief is prevalent that a person with an abdominal wound, is of necessity, fatally hurt," said Dr. W. A. Sackett to a reporter for the Democrat, Friday night. "This is not the case, however. The medical profession has made so many big strides and so much progress in the last two years in abdominal surgery that it has come to be a remarkably fine science."

"Even when the intestines are punctured there have been many cases where operations have been successful and the patient has recovered and had no bad effects from the injury."

"As a general statement and unless there are other complications than those already mentioned in the reports of the case, there is no reason why the President should not recover. This class of injuries, is, of course always more serious than many others, but the progress that has been made in their treatment has been most remarkable and there is every reason to hope and believe that the President has as many chances to recover as there are chances of a fatal termination to the shooting."

"His well known strength and vitality will also work for his recovery and the prevalent belief that because he is wounded in the abdomen that he must die, is all wrong."

IN CANTON

Many People Remained In Streets All Night.

"The excitement in Canton last evening was very great," said Dr. Josiah Hartzell, of the Aultman, Miller Co., whose home is in that city. "All night many people were waiting to receive the latest news. The newspaper bulletins were surrounded until morning and then the crowd increased. When word came from Secretary Cortelyou this morning, that the President would almost certainly recover, the people breathed more freely. They knew Mr. Cortelyou and had faith in what he said. Mrs. M. C. Barber went to Buffalo to be with her sister, Mrs. McKinley, early this morning, going through Akron on the Valley road."

EFFECT ON MARKET.

The following story of the effect the attempt on the President's life had on the New York Stock market, from the New York Post is furnished by Lamprecht Bros. & Co., who have quarters in the Hamilton building in Akron. Interest in an unusual degree converged on the opening of the stock market today. Effects of totally unexpected shock are always difficult to measure in advance, and in the present case, not only was the blow unlooked for but its bearing on the situation could not be foretold by precedent.

The case of 1881, when Garfield was fired upon at Washington, naturally occurred to the minds of all observers of the market. And as a matter of fact, this morning's market acted much as did the market of July 2, 1881, though they did so with rather greater rapidity than on that occasion.

Opening prices came in at declines quite as great as in 1881. St. Paul for instance, dropping 5 1/2 points at the very start, Rock Island 4 1/2, Union Pacific 3, Amalgamated Copper 3 1/2, United States Steel common 4 1/2 and soon rather generally throughout the list. From these early low figures, there was an immediate recovery, in the course of which movement nearly half of the previous losses were regained.

Then after half an hour of irregularity, prices collapsed again, with great violence, going in most cases below even the very weak opening prices, and closing near the lowest. Money on call three per cent. Time money this week has gradually worked closer. A limited business has been done at 5 per cent as the minimum rate for all dates.

STOCK MARKET.

Its Performance Because of the Assassination.

New York, Sept. 7.—(Spl.)—When the news of President McKinley's attempted assassination was flashed to this city yesterday afternoon the stock market was closed for the day, but it did not take long for the brokers to hear the startling news and to recall the heavy decline in stocks at the time of the killing of President Garfield. Immediate steps were taken to forestall a similar raid in the stock exchange today. At midnight J. Edward Simmons, president of the Fourth National bank and Acting Chairman of the clearing House committee, in the absence of Chairman F. D. Tappan, called a meeting of bankers who are members of the clearing house committee. The meeting was at the Hotel Buckingham. After the session this statement was issued, deploring the calamity. It continues:

"After a somewhat prolonged period of liquidation, the financial situation is one that should excite no alarm. The banks are strong and are in a position to meet the emergency that has arisen. The majority of the clearing house committee is in town and a consultation has taken place. "The business of the country is on a substantial basis and the clearing house banks are amply able to cope with the situation and they will stand together in this emergency as they have done in the past."

It was learned that the bankers had decided to issue clearing house certificates, as was done to the extent of $40,000,000 in the panic of '93. If any pressure for money appears today, no solvent firm will be allowed to suffer. A great break in the market is not now expected.

FRANCE

Received the News With Feeling of Consternation.

Paris, Sept. 7.—(Spl.)—The news of the attempt on McKinley's life reached here too late for afternoon publication and was not known last night outside of newspaper circles. Sympathy is expressed by all the papers today and a feeling akin to consternation seems to prevail.

The French regarded McKinley as the last statesman in the world on whom such an attempt would be made.

IN CHICAGO

Anarchists Have Been Arrested For Complicity.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(Spl.)—A gang of alleged anarchists, headed by one Isaac, was rounded up and jailed here this morning. It is said they knew Czolgosz and that he had been in Chicago, but they denied that any conspiracy had been formed to assassinate the President. The men will

UNNATURAL FLESH.

Reduced by Leaving Off Coffee and Using Postum Food Coffee.

"I have used coffee many years; in fact, ever since I was a child, until a few months ago I became satisfied that it hurt me—cause the miserable drowsy feeling and the bloated condition of my body. I was very fleshy at the time, unnaturally fleshy."

"Since I left off drinking coffee and use Postum Food Coffee, the effect has been wonderful. I feel like a different person. The bloating has all gone. I am very much thinner and more natural in shape, have a better appetite and do not feel sleepy and drowsy as before. I shall never use any more regular coffee."

"When I first tried Postum, I was not satisfied with it, but decided that the fault must be my own, for so many people used Postum and liked it that I knew there was some trouble in my preparation of it, so I examined the directions carefully and found that I should boil it long enough to bring out the flavor and the food value. When I prepared it right, it was elegant and I am more than pleased with the delicious beverage I have for breakfast every morning." Mrs. E. M. Pope, 1158 23d St., Detroit, Mich.

THE STORY

And the Facts Surrounding the Assassination.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—(Spl.)—Yesterday was a big day in American history.

Consumption Threatened.

C. Unger, 212 Maple st., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

THE NIGHT

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(Spl.)—Daylight this morning brought no wakefulness to the eyes of any human being in John G. Milburn's house, for though some had slept fitfully, gray dawn peeped in on no sleeping face.

The night was an eventful one at the Milburn home. Mrs. McKinley slept while, but with her it was a sleep of death.

Dr. Rixey counseled with her. She wanted to spend the night at her husband's side, but, in her feeble condition, this was not to be thought of. Mrs. McKinley knows her condition and realizes full well that Dr. Rixey understands her. She listened to his counsel and took the draught which would induce sleep—a mild opiate, which closed her eyes shortly after her head was laid on its pillow.

In the President's chamber, though, there was a watchfulness for every second. Dr. Rixey was with him till daybreak, and the last bulletin of the night, issued at 4 a. m., was signed by Dr. Rixey alone. Dr. Parks stayed until nearly 2 o'clock and counseled with Dr. Rixey.

Two nurses were sent in from the Emergency hospital on the exposition grounds. Every few minutes one or the other of these women was up or down stairs with this, that or the other thing for the President's comfort and care.

All of the bulletins that came from the bedside during the night showed that the President was resting comfortably. He was under the influence of strong opiates, which induced sleep and while he slept his injuries were being tenderly and scientifically cared for by doctors and nurses.

The Milburn parlor was converted into an official bureau, where George B. Cortelyou, private secretary to the president, held sway.

Before midnight both the Western Union and Postal telegraph companies had wires connected and instruments working in the Milburn barn, one office being established in the coachman's room and the other in the carriage room. These wires were kept exceptionally busy up to 8 o'clock this morning with messages of state and of private importance. Two White House messengers, were also in attendance.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Senator Marcus A. Hanna arrived from Cleveland. He gave an interview to a representative of the Scripps-McRae at the Milburn residence shortly after midnight.

Senator Hanna said that he left Cleveland when a telegram reached him about 4:15, informing him of the shooting. He was able to catch a train leaving Cleveland at 5:20 o'clock and reached here late at night, being immediately driven to the Milburn residence, where he remained until 1:30 o'clock this morning. He then left there accompanied by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Harry Hamlin, of this city.

utive which is controlled by, and which furnishes protection and immunity to, vicious economic policies and unlawful combinations, inimical to the interests of the people at large, a Congress which in return for places placed at the disposal of its members, has abdicated its constitutional duties of legislation, and a judiciary either unable or unwilling to define the gravest questions of the status of our recent conquests in language that can be understood by men of ordinary intelligence, and, in Ohio, by a state administration which has done nothing for the people worthy of its hire.

5. We believe that the ballot, intelligently and incorruptly cast, furnishes an adequate remedy for every political or economic evil, and we commend it to all who are justly complaining of industrial ills and vicious systems of trade, as their only safeguard and reliance.

6. We commend to all voters the platform adopted by the late Democratic state convention of Ohio, and particularly that part of it which stands for a more equitable distribution of the burdens of taxation; and we denounce the refusal of the Republican taxing officers of the state to rectify their present practice of protecting favored interests from bearing their share of public imposts as a masterpiece of injustice and knavery.

7. We expressly and especially instruct and require the legislative nominees of this convention, in the event of their election, to secure to the City of Akron a reformed system of administration, in place of one which for inefficiency, wastefulness and general uselessness, is—we believe—without its fellow in the history of municipal misgovernment; and we demand that such reform shall restore to the people of Akron their proper voice in selecting their public servants and in requiring from the latter a strict account of how they have discharged their trust, instead of leaving them, as at present, accountable only to an irresponsible bossism.

8. We favor a rigid economy in all public expenditures, and to that end we pledge the legislative nominees of this convention, in the event of their election, to support any measure looking to the reduction of the compensation of county officials to a fair and just basis.

9. We demand the passage of law in Ohio making the recovery of costs to magistrates' courts entirely independent of the event of the suit, and thus relieving the unfortunate debtor from the imposition of burdens in addition to what he owes, and which of ten amounts, in common practice, to oppression.

10. We pledge our loyal support to the Democratic state ticket of Ohio and to the nominees of this convention.

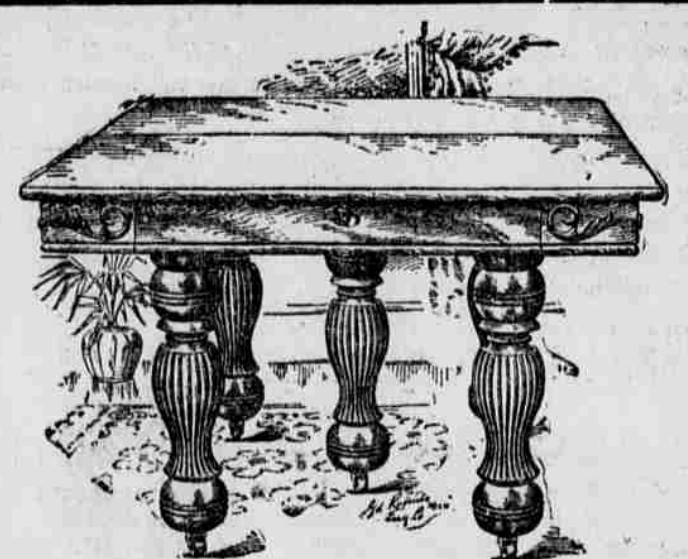

11. We deplore the recent attempt on the life of the President. We hope for his early and complete recovery from his wounds, and we denounce assassination as a cowardly and un-American crime, deserving of speedy and exemplary punishment.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all drug stores.
